

Magick Press

Probation Officer Katie Soule bribed to violate Magick by Tim Szal & Frank Bufano

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

12/25/2024 - Schenectady, New York

Matthew "Magick" Szal has been arrested after his probation officer was bribed by a group that stole his inheritance from Jack Kersting. His son Roman has also been kidnapped and his younger brother Alex is impersonating him in Los Angeles.

Matthew was extradited to Tarrant County for trial after his probation officer was paid to violate him. His aunt Nancy was killed by an unidentified driver who ran her over with a car. It is believed her death was done in connection to the plot to steal the inheritance. Nancy did not want to pretend that he was crazy or had any mental illness. Magick's former roommate, Timaris Weaver, was also run over by an unidentified driver. He also did not want to pretend that Magick had a mental illness.

Magick has just started a new position at Adirondack Tire. He works at the corporate location, doing various important tasks for the company. Katie Soule was called twice, and two voicemails were left about rescheduling their Monday appointment. She refused to return any calls and violated his probation on a case that should have been declared a mistrial.

After Magick Mechanic filed a lawsuit against Frank Bufano, he could sell his house in Texas and move to California. Now, his daughter and Alex Szal have Roman and have been trying to steal his cartoon show The Flying Dutchess illegally with Nickelodeon. Nickelodeon has been operating in bad faith after losing out on an intense negotiation with Cartoon Network, which they both lost to self-releasing on Instagram.

You can read more about Matt Szal on his website at: www.mattszal.com